

Commonsense model of science

Observation → Facts → Theories

Problems

- What we see is not necessarily what hits our retina (expectations, cultural background all play a role)
- Observation presupposes theory. E.g. I see stars in the sky because of my theory The theory dependence of observation
- The conventional model relies on inductive reasoning.